

Commercial Excess Liability Coverage

Admiral's comprehensive commercial excess liability coverage was developed to support a large portion of our primary general liability by offering follow form excess liability over our GL and other insurers', auto and employers' liability policies.

What's at Risk

Without excess liability coverage, your clients could suffer major losses if an accident incurs expenses outside the limits of their existing coverage.

Our Solution

In today's highly competitive marketplace, most companies can't afford to pay out of pocket if coverage limits leave them with large expenses. Our underwriters can offer excess limits when quoting the underlying general liability, which allows your clients to get all the coverage they need in one place.
