

Products Liability

Admiral Insurance Group offers products liability coverage that is designed for moderate-to-high-risk accounts. This coverage is made available exclusively by our national network of wholesale brokers.

What's at Risk

When a product breaks, doesn't perform as promised-- or worse--turns deadly, manufacturers, importers, distributors, and even sellers can be accused of negligence, regardless of actual fault. Products liability coverage protects your clients in the event of a defective product. Every business must protect their business and assets against these potential claims.

Our Solution

Admiral's products liability coverage is targeted to manufacturers and distributors of a wide range of products from moderate-to-high-risk. We offer many attractive coverage features and benefits.
